ASRS News

Contribution Rates for next fiscal year

The Arizona State Retirement System will implement a slight increase in contribution rates for the 2007-08 fiscal year.

Based on an annual actuarial analysis of the defined benefit plan, health insurance premium benefit and long term disability program, the recommended total contribution rate will increase from 9.1 percent this year to 9.6 percent beginning July 1, 2007. Because the ASRS pension plan is a match plan, the contribution rate is for both the employee and the employer.

The ASRS Board of Trustees accepted the annual actuarial valuation at its November 17 meeting, which determined a contribution rate of 9.1 percent for the defined benefit plan and health insurance premium benefit, and 0.5 for the long term disability plan. The LTD rate has remained steady the past five years.

The overall increase is primarily due to past improvements to the benefit package, low historic contribution rates, low mid-term investment returns, and changing member demographics. Improved investment performance over the past two years has helped mitigate larger increases in the contribution rate. Projections continue to show the rate increasing slightly over the next several years, peaking at about 10 percent in 2012 and then beginning a slight downward trend.

Investment News

The ASRS investment fund earned a rate of return for calendar year 2006 of 14 percent, well above the actuarially assumed rate of 8 percent. The ASRS portfolio, primarily a mix of U.S. stocks, international stocks, fixed income bonds, with some investments in real estate, stood at just over $26 billion.

ASRS Legislation

The 48th Session of the Arizona Legislature is underway with a number of bills introduced that deal with retirement issues. The ASRS has proposed several bills and provided information and analysis on others that are aimed primarily at improving services, producing savings that will help mitigate future increases in contribution rates and ensure the longevity of the ASRS trust.

You can view summaries of retirement-related legislation and track progress of bills through the Legislature by viewing the ASRS Bill Tracker, a document that is posted on our website and updated weekly.

To view additional provisions of this and other bills under consideration at the legislature, view the ASRS Bill Tracker, or visit the state legislature's website, www.azleg.gov.
